Top Islamic extremist surrenders

A LEADER of the Islamic extremist group al-Shabab, who has a £1.9million bounty on his head, has surrendered in Somalia, according to intelligence sources.

Zakariya Ismail Ahmed Hersi gave himself up to police in the Gedo region, said an anonymous Somali intelligence officer.

He said Hersi might have surrendered because he fell out with those loyal to Ahmed Godane, al-Shabab's top leader who was killed in a U.S. air strike earlier this year.

Hersi was one of eight senior al-Shabab men for whom the U.S. offered a total £21m in rewards for information leading to their capture in 2012.

Despite suffering losses such as losing major cities, al-Shabab remains a threat in Somalia and Kenya.

Floods kill 5 in Malaysia

MALAYSIA is battling some of the worst floods in decades along its east coast, and at least five people have been killed.

More than 100,000 have been forced from their homes, and Prime Minister Najib Razak has cut short his holidays.

Darius Dramburg, an eyewitness in the flooded region, said his village was under water and there was no electricity running in some parts.

"There is no electricity there's no water either, no food. Still, it could be worse. We've not been hit with the killer 'weather bomb' Britain is facing."

The north wind doth blow and we shall have snow, And what will the Robin do then, poor thing...

WARNINGS about icy roads were issued again last night – but you didn't need to tell the owner of this Reliant Robin, who luckily found help from pals to push his stricken motor.

UK forecasts suggest snow in many areas could thaw and freeze again as temperatures fall overnight.

Excited weathermen said "ice would be the main hazard" facing most of the country.

Roads in Yorks, Staffs and posh Cheshire were the most badly hit in the latest deluge, and drivers were also marooned in the Peak District where shop boss Barry Goran said: "It was treacherous underfoot which kept me indoors – what with my bent legs."

Issuing a cold weather alert, the Met Office said there was a 90 per cent chance that severe weather will last until Wednesday could "increase the health risks to the vulnerable."

MAYHEM!

Passengers climb out of train windows as London collapses in travel chaos

RAILWAY DISMAY: Thousands were left stuck after works on line over-ran

THOUSANDS of travellers were stranded after a train station was repeatedly closed to prevent dangerous overcrowding.

Police were called amid chaotic scenes as people amassed outside Finsbury Park station in north London after being diverted due to the closure of Kings Cross because of overrunning engineering works.

The mayhem erupted when the station, which usually serves as a link between local overland routes and the London Underground, was effectively transformed into one of the capital's main hubs by the closure.

Platforms and the main concourse were blocked by crowds and queues stretched through underground walkways towards the street.

It forced Thameslink Great Northern, which runs the station, to operate a series of temporary closures to limit the overcrowding.

Meanwhile, trains were backed up on lines outside the station, unable to let passengers off, further blocking major routes in and out of the capital. The disruption was quickly trending on Twitter as furious passengers voiced their frustration online.

Clamber

On some trains stranded outside stations, passengers were seen trying to clamber out of carriage WINDOWS.

Trains in and out of London King's Cross were cancelled because of overrunning Network Rail engineering works north of the station, with a reduced service expected on Sunday.

All East Coast and Thameslink & Great Northern passengers were told to start or end their journey at Finsbury Park.

Passenger Harriet Alexander tweeted: "Driver says that there are an estimated 2,000 people outside Finsbury Park station trying to get in. Which is why we are stuck in this train."

● THE Office of the Rail Regulator last night announced it is to launch a probe into the chaos caused by the late-running Kings Cross repairs.

For Christians that is fair enough. After seeing what Jesus went through, surely they can be forgiven for trying to make it tricky to nail them to anything.

THE Queen uses her festive speech to recall the famous Christmas Day truce of World War One, when German and English soldiers laid down their arms at first light to enjoy a game of football.

We sent our men out on the night before Christmas Eve to Liverpool, Newcastle, Brighton and Swansea – with mixed results.

THE VOICE OF YOUR BRITAIN

Feminism has only led us to condoms inside our plum duff

CHRISTMAS is done for another year.

The unappetising carcass of the goose or turkey is decaying in the pantry.

The cold misery of a long January awaits us, with credit card bills and disconnection threats from the gas board.

But, for one man, this festive season has left a more bitter taste than usual.

For Kevin Collins found something unwanted in his Christmas pudding.

No, not a lucky sixpence.

A CONDOM.

Kevin's wife made the mistake of purchasing the family plum duff from a shifty-looking fellow on her local market.

The confection was of Bulgarian origin – which goes some way to explaining why it contained a stray sheath.

Bulgarians, you see, are notoriously slapdash when it comes to disposing of sex litter.

But the problem would not have occurred if Kevin's good lady had not been such an idle slattern and had made the Christmas pudding herself.

These days, women convince themselves that "careers" come before preparing good, home-made fodder for their menfolk.

The folly of that nonsense became apparent when Kevin's teeth chomped down on a Bulgarian prophylactic.

The creed of feminism promised so much. What we have got, in reality, is the men of this country slurping down condoms on Christmas Day.

Happy New Year dear readers!

2015 beckons folks.

May we at Sunday Sport Towers wish you a happy, healthy and prosperous New Year.

Perv nicked for sucking off a horse

A MAN was arrested after telling stunned cops he'd sucked off a horse!

Jared Kreft, 30, was nicked after police were called to a barn.

There they found Kreft wearing a mask, black jacket and trousers with holes cut in the groin and buttocks.

He told deputies that he went to the barn and performed oral sex on the animal and tried to arouse the horse with his hand.

He revealed he had viewed "horsey pornography" before the incident.

Police in Wausau, Wisconsin, also found a glass bong and a tub of Vaseline in the barn.

Kreft was charged with sexual gratification with an animal sex organ, possession of drug paraphernalia, possession of marijuana as a repeat offender, and bail jumping.

He was held in the police cells as he was unable to afford bail.

Boobs-barer gets life ban from Vatican

A RADICAL feminist activist who bared her breasts in St Peter's Square on Christmas Day has been barred from entering Vatican City for life.

Yana Zhdanova snatched the statue of Baby Jesus from the Vatican's outdoor Nativity scene during the topless protest.

The Holy See prosecutor met Zhdanova yesterday and decided to order her release, according to Vatican spokesman the Rev Federico Lombardi.

The Ukrainian protester was ordered to never enter Vatican City State, including St Peter's Basilica, or other Vatican property outside the city-state's walls.

The Femen protester shouted "God is woman" when she uncovered her chest in the square, about an hour after Pope Francis had greeted and blessed tens of thousands of faithful in his annual address.

A Vatican guard covered her chest with his cloak and took her into Vatican custody.

CHRISTMAS pudding will never taste the same for Kevin Collins – after he found a CONDOM in his!

What's more, dad-of-two Kev is terrified he may be at risk of turning GAY – as has no idea if the nodder was USED and is afraid he may have swallowed some SPUNK

Dad-of-two Kev raged: "I've heard of people putting sixpences in Christmas puddings but never prophylactics. What lunatic puts a nodder in a festive confection? It is the most disgusting thing I have ever experienced – and I've been to Crewe!"

Sick

Pipeline engineer Kev, 37, of Leyland, Lancs, said: "The wife got the pudding from a bloke on the market. It was only a quid, which is cheaper than Lidl.

"Now we know why – a Christmas pudding with a nodder inside! I still feel physically sick."

He added: "I worry about if the condom was used. If it was, I may have swallowed a man's spunk.

"That would make me a gay – and that would not play well down the Legion. Not well at all."

Sunday Sport tracked down the pudding's manufacturer – Bulgaria-based Good Yes Fine Sweet Bakery.

Director, Zoltan Antov, said: "We find man who did this, we punish him severely. Punish his family, we burn his house, yes?"

WHAT KIND OF IDIOT GIVES A MONKEY CRYSTAL METH?

A MONKEY which had been fed killer mind-bending death drug CRYSTAL METH by sick louts was found stuck in the flue of a chip shop.

The pitiful cries of the capuchin monkey – thought to be about two years old – alerted Boxing Day strollers walking past Mayland's fish and chip shop in Southampton.

FISH & CHIMPS: Mayland's eaterie

Emergency services found the lard-caked critter in a heat flue leading from a fat fryer after dismantling the metal chimney.

The primate, which has been named Chippy, was taken for a check-up by specialist vets who conducted a blood test, which showed up high levels of crystal meth, or methamphetamine.

He has now been homed at a nearby monkey sanctuary.

A wildlife services spokesman said: "The little fella was in a pitiful state – covered in fat and utterly terrified.

"When we found out that someone had given him crystal meth we were staggered. What kind of idiot gives a monkey drugs like that?

"We've checked records and nobody has a licence for this monkey in the Southampton area.

"God knows where he came from. The important thing is that he's safe now."

A side-effect of crystal meth is its aphrodisiac property and officials confirmed that Chippy was "almost dangerously aroused for several hours" after this rescue.

Although common in the USA, crystal meth – made famous by the hit TV series Breaking Bad – has not made massive inroads into the UK drug scene.

It was widely used by Nazis in Germany, who gave it to troops, and was even sold as a slimming aid in America during the 1950s.

"I tell him to pull down his pants and get on all fours up on the table. Now I'm trying to get him to position his ass cheeks just right so I can get to his a-hole.

"I finally get him to spread his ass cheeks apart, and I get my needle. I have my face right up to this guy's anus and am about to pierce him. Two seconds after I get the needle in, he blasts shit all over my face.

"I start screaming, trying to wipe shit off my face, and he starts trying to stand up but the needle is still in his ass, and he screams.

"*After I got cleaned up, and we got the needle out his ass I said "WHY DID YOU SH*T ON ME??!" He says "You said to relax my anus! I'm so sorry!"*

My New Year 3-some on the train to Edinburgh

IT was out with the old and in with the TWO for Gabrielle Saint – when she enjoyed a kinky New Year threesome in a train TOILET!

By NEIL GOODWIN
neil@sundaysport.co.uk

The Czech-born beauty has a body to have you popping your cork and going off like a party banger in your underpants.

And the 32G lovely gave two jammy chaps a Hogmanay to remember last year after she took part in kinky menage-a-trois while travelling back to her home in Edinburgh.

The astonishing tryst came during celebrations as she returned from visiting friends in Newcastle.

Auld SCHLONG Syne-loving Gabrielle, 26, told Sunday Sport: "I like to ring in the New Year in style, and this was the best yet. I don't know how I'm going to top it this year.

"I'd been drinking champagne all day with my friends in Newcastle on New Year's Eve, so I was already feeling a little fruity.

"And I had a couple of gin and tonics on the train back to Edinburgh to get me in the mood for a friend's party. I got chatting to a couple of Geordie lads sitting opposite me on a table seat and before long there was a lot of flirting going on.

"I got up to go to the loo, and they actually followed me down the aisle, laughing and joking about us all having a 'threesome'!

"They were only taking the mickey, but I turned round and told them, 'Come on then, put your money where your mouth is', pushed them into the cubicle and locked the door!

Tugging

"They stood there, mouths open, as I started to unbutton my shirt, and before long I was kissing them both while tugging at their jeans.

"We ended up all fondling each other up against the wall and I took it in turns to have sex with them both – while trying not to make too much noise!

"When the door eventually opened the poor people waiting must have had the shock of their lives – seeing three people all hot, sweaty and with red faces frantically adjusting their clothes.

"It was great fun – so much better than a soggy sandwich from the buffet carriage, you've got to agree!"

Annoying p*ssheads' legal blow

A COURT has ruled that it IS against the law to be annoying when you're pissed!

Drunkard Rodregus Morgan, 52, claimed that a law that anyone who "harasses, annoys, or alarms another" while tipsy was too vague and therefore unconstitutional.

But the Supreme Court in Indiana agreed with Deputy Attorney General George P. Sherman, who argued that anybody with "ordinary intelligence" knows what is annoying.

Morgan (above) did claim a partial victory, though.

The court also ruled that he had not, at the time of his arrest, been annoying enough to meet the legal test of "annoying drunkenness" and his conviction was quashed.

The 27-year-old babe played feisty ice base worker Shona.

But Fresh Meat star Faye's never been a slouch when it comes to getting her baubles out.

She peeled off in historical drama The White Queen and also revealed her boobs in the E4 drama Glue. In case you were fast asleep when Doctor Who came on, the episode was the ultimate meeting of two Christmas icons – the Doctor and Santa Claus.

Robot

Peter Capaldi, who plays the 12th timelord, said: "It's great because this is the very first time the Doctor has come face-to-face with Santa.

It's not an evil robot or an alien merely dressed as Father Christmas – it's the real deal."

NEIGHBOURS MY ARSE!

Babe flashes trumper online

STREWTH, mate! Gorgeous Neighbours babe Caitlin Stasey has uploaded photos of her bare ARSE to the internet!

The stunning actress plays Rachel Kinski in everyone's favourite Aussie soap.

But she's also a campaigner for female nudity and supports the "Free the Nipple" movement, which demands the right for women to be able to go topless in public without fear of prosecution.

Norks

And to support a new exhibition about the group in Canada, Caitlin, 24, has unleashed astonishing snaps of her pert derriere.

The feisty Aussie has already shown her norks in a controversial black and white photo on her Instagram account.

Her Twitter feed is also full of stuff too rude for the fictional Erinsborough suburb.

BRITAIN'S SWEARIEST COLUMNIST

HOLY SH*T!

IT'S Sunday, a day for quiet reflection and prayer. And who better to spend it with than Britain's first – and only – Tourette's vicar, the Reverend Edward Regis?

Despite being born with Tourette's – a condition that forces the cleric to swear – Rev Eddie fulfilled his dream of becoming a minister.

He's a man with a lot to say about what is happening in the world, despite his affliction. And Sunday Sport has made a vow to publish his Godly views – UNCENSORED and UNCUT!

Christmas service is a lot more than a – bellend! – sing-song

Well readers, I hope you – gash! – had a better Christmas than I did – cockpuke!

I'm sad to say that this year's Christmas service – fkstick! – was an unmitigated disaster – pisser! pisspants!

I mean, people don't – jizzsocks! – understand how much work – dickchugger! – goes into pulling a service together.

Carpetfer! Spart! Huckle! MILF! Wank!

It not just a case of throwing together – fk! – some prayers and a sing-song.

Goochie-coochie!

This is the big guy's birthday – shagbat! – It's like throwing a party for your boss.

Todger! Chapless arse! Pussytrain!

So believe me you put a lot of – cum-mouth! – heart and soul into it.

Fk! Pubes! Pillock!

So when parishioners rock up – nadger! – probably for the first and last time of the year, by the way – spoutum! – and start grumbling, just because of a few slips of the tongue, well – fkmother! – you do start to wonder why you bother.

Bumlube! Harem! Butt-thrust!

Kids hear all sorts of things these days – fk! Twat! Cy! – and there's no proof that little girl was repeating what I said.

Whassock! Johnnies!

Fortunately, I happen to believe a good deal in forgiveness – buns! – and turning the other cheek.

Brown-eye!

Caroline – soreballs! – is class

WASN'T the final of Strictly Come Dancing marvellous?

Potties! Swede-hole! Wervil!

And well done to Caroline Flack (right) – rhumba-ass! – who to my mind was a well-deserved winner.

*Conchita! Tits! Doucher! Sh*t!*

I do hope that one day – fkpig! – she'll find someone her own age to settle down with.

Fist-Pygmy! Soddo! Barn-hump!

Or perhaps even a little older – bonkcave! – like a certain vicar – prostate finger! – who I could name, for instance!

Mardy-arse sexbeast!

The thing about Strictly – soreballs! – is that it is a class above the rest of television nowadays.

Loveorbs! Gonads!

And especially reality television.

Pantsplitter!

It's a bit like the Downton Abbey of reality TV in a way.

Turds! Knockers! Enema!

There's no need – ruffage! – for any of the silliness and sex and swearing – zoophilia! – that you sometimes see elsewhere on the "idiot-box".

It makes one proud to be British in a way – chammer! – a bit like the proms or Wimbledon.

Trouser-salami!

Well done to – fk! – Elt

SO Sir Elton John has got married – so it's congratulations, Elt!

Dangle! Reverse drillpump!

Elton has always been one of our best musicians – snuglips! – and one of the most successful.

Gangbang! Oral she-bat!

But it doesn't matter how much money you have – backfist! – if you don't have love, you're poor in the way it really counts.

Fk! Cad-pole! Fish-tunnel!

It's great he's finally settled down – bangers! – marriage is a great institution.

Fleshsack! Growler! Gufty-prick! Sh*tters!

Whoever she is, she is a very lucky woman.

Lurkhog!

BreastEnders!

EARLY BOOB: Linda in Big Zapper

Queen Victoria shock storyline – Linda's secret topless past

By BARNEY SAMUELS
news@sundaysport.co.uk

COR blimey! Strike a light and make no mistake guv'nor! – it's all gone pear shaped down the Old Queen Vic, lumme!*

If the festive season itself was not enough to send you into a suicidal gloom, Cockney soap opera EastEnders would have tipped you over the edge.

The dreary, dismal London-based miseryfest never fails to dampen spirits with its grey, tearstained parade of arseholes shouting at each other.

The Christmas Day episode was no different, with Queen Vic landlord Mick Carter (Danny Dyer) finding out that his wife has been raped.

Hatchet

Mick also finds that his 'Mum' Sylvie is not his mother after all. That accolade goes to hatchet faced Shirley Carter (Linda Henry), who Mick always thought was his sister.

Yes, the old "older-sister-is-in-fact-mother" storyline – only the 367th time it's been used on UK television.

But Sunday Sport can today sprinkle a little glitter on the swamp that is Albert Square by revealing that Linda Marlowe, who plays Mick's mum-who-isn't-his-mum Sylvie, has a topless secret.

GRIM: Danny with soap wife and 'mum' Linda

She played private detective Hilary Zapper in the 1973 romp Big Zapper.

The film, also known as The Sex Life of a Female Private Eye, featured characters called Fingers, Strawberry Jim, Pandora Horn, Rock hard and Mr Cortina.

One reviewer at the time commented: "Big Zapper is 70's British cinema at it's very lowest – the acting and cinematography are laughable, and it's a film so bad it isn't even unintentionally funny."

Still, Linda's got classic Seventies knockers!

* Phrases courtesy of Dick Van Dyke.

Chainsaw Ash back from the Dead

EVIL DEAD star Bruce Campbell has promised fans an upcoming TV spin-off will be an "explosion of carnage".

The cult flicks, about a chainsaw wielding bloke plagued by an army of zombies, are being turned into a telly series by US producers Starz.

It'll see Bruce, 56 (left) return as hapless hero Ash, while original helmer Sam Raimi is back on board as director.

And Bruce reckons it's going to be an all-out gore-fest.

He teased: "There's jokey horror and horror-horror.

"Humour may come out of it, but there's nothing funny about a demon ripping somebody's head off.

"Fans want the carnage and the mayhem. So we intend to give them quite the explosion of viscera. Most of it directed at me, unfortunately."

The plot will see down-at-heel Ash living in a trailer park and working a shitty job when a return of the Deadites prompts him to take a road trip with two young co-workers to do battle with the flesh-hungry demons.

It's due to hit our screens late next year.

Playing Jane Shore in the olde-timey bonk-fest, she proved her boobs really are fit for royalty while shagging her way to ecstasy.

BLOG BROTHER

Desperate Scousewives star & celeb blogger Jaiden Micheal joins Sunday Sport

SO 2014 is nearly over! What a year it's been. There have been some exceptional celebrity moments but obviously I'm not going to praise anyone in this column, I'm here to just rip the deluded idiots who think they're God!

KIM Kardashian tried to "break the internet" with her nude photoshoot for Paper magazine. In reality, she just made the majority of us bork in utter disgust after seeing her lady lumps and overrated bum.

Kayne was obviously proud of his wifey. Shame he didn't get naked too, he's got much better tits.

HELEN Wood won Big Brother, proving that even if you are a gobby home-wrecker, you will still come out on top!

Fab role model for our next generation eh? I wonder what Helen spent her £100k winnings on? Defo wants a new nose – she still looks like a sloth's finger.

RENEE Zelwigner – or whatever her name is – joined a lonnnnng list of celebs with two faces. Don't know why everyone was so surprised?! Why did she blatantly say she'd had no surgery on her face and said her clean diet and more sleep changed the way she looked?!

Yeh. Ok love.

TOWIE* 'stars' still thought they were A list. MIC 'stars' still thought they were liked. Geordie Shore (above) 'stars' carried on banging anything that walks. The Valleys got axed as people they couldn't understand them without subtitles.

And Scousewives STILL didn't make a comeback! FEWMIN.

BIG news – Simon Cowell beat his critics by bagging that much-wanted, Christmas No 1! His X Factor winner, Ben Haenow topped the charts with a mediocre cover of a One Republic song. I'd of rather his X Factor rival, Jack Walton and mate Tom Zanetti get No 1!

SO that's it from me for this year, see you all in 2015!

By the way (shameless plug) my new book Celebrity 2014 is out on 5th January from Amazon. It's my review of the year and it's a belter!

A nip down memory lane!

THIS WEEK

RACHEL TERHORST 1995

NEXT WEEK: LANA COX

By NEIL GOODWIN
neil@sundaysport.co.uk

DUTCH beauty Rachel Terhorst was so fit she was voted the sexiest model of the 20th century!

But she wasn't just a pretty face and a pair of perfect 36C boobs, she was also a talented singer and actress.

In fact her vocal track on Sabotage's 2000 hit Return to Ibiza was a Top 10 hit across Europe.

And she even scored herself a role in the James Bond flick Goldeneye.

But it was for her modelling that she was most famous.

The blonde beauty first started whipping her top off aged 19 and was an instant hit.

Fun

She went on to strip fully for Playboy magazine – and it was readers of the posh skin mag who voted her Model of the Century in 2000.

Talking about her boob-baring career, Rachel, who's now 38, said: "I had so much fun.

"It was a wild ride, I toured the world, made money and had a ball.

"And being voted the sexiest model of the century was really flattering."

Pissed-up elf asleep at the wheel of van

ONE of Santa's little helpers was nicked for drink-driving when he was found slumped at the wheel of his van.

Brian Chellis, 23, was fast asleep, with the engine running when cops found him in the car park of a DIY store.

The lights on the Toyota van were blazing, pop music was blasting from the stereo and an open can of beer was on the floor.

Chellis, who had been working as a department store elf, was still in his festive garb.

Chellis, of Riverdale, New Jersey, was charged with driving while intoxicated, reckless driving and open container possession.

Granny halts shop w*nker in mid stroke

A MAN who was pulling himself off in a shop was interrupted mid-fiddle by a plucky grandmother.

Mark Stephen Ridley, 53, was handed a 10-month suspended sentence and ordered to complete 70 hours' community service for the despicable crime.

Indecent

Ridley went to the back of the shop, exposed himself, and began masturbating.

A grandmother stumbled across him, she saw the indecent act and reported him to shop staff.

Ridley left the store, in Canberra, Australia, with his semi-erect penis still protruding from his flies.

He was later arrested and charged with an act of indecency in the presence of another.

KIM FURY AT WEB BLOCK ON CLOWN PORN

Attack cripples North Korean internet

NORTH Korean nitwit Kim Jong-Un hit the roof when his country was cut off from the internet – because he couldn't view his favourite CLOWN PORN!

By BRAD CHADWICK
news@sundaysport.co.uk

The 30-year-old dictator threw his Tandy laptop across his bedroom and ordered the EXECUTION of his IT staff when the reclusive Stalinist state was disconnected from the web last week.

An insider said: "The Great Leader developed a taste for so-called clown porn while at school in Switzerland. He cannot get enough.

"He spends many millions of dollars importing clown porn magazines and DVDs, but he loves being up to date and subscribes to many clown porn websites.

"When he couldn't log on last week he went ballistic, shrieking about imperialist dogs, wreckers and counter-revolutionary lice. And I think he meant lice, as in louse, and not 'rice'."

By Wednesday North Korea was again plugged back into the World Wide Web, though the cause of its disconnection remains a mystery.

North Korea's only ally, China, has denounced reports suggesting it was responsible for the shutdown.

Isolated

The North Korean clown porn outage is the latest twist in an escalating cyber war between the isolated nation and the rest of the world.

It began when experts from Pyongyang hacked Sony in retaliation for controversial movie The Interview, which features the fictional assassination of Kim Jong-Un.

Sony later cancelled the release – a move criticised by President Obama.

On Christmas Day, Sony reversed the cancellation and the film was shown in a few independent cinemas.

North Korea officially denies it is behind the hack – but no-one believes them.

DEANO ON SUNDAY

I'd rather listen to old Compo, Foggy & Clegg

I'M not quite sure when it became a Christmas tradition for the political party leaders to issue a "Christmas message".

Why the fk we would be inspired by the sage words of Cam, Clegg and Miliband is beyond me.

Personally, I think you'd get more wisdom from Compo, Foggy and Clegg in a rerun of Last of the Summer Wine.

Cleggy and Miliband were at pains to point out that they didn't believe in God or Jesus, which sorts of pisses all over the "Christmas" bit of a Christmas message.

They also evoked the spirit of the 1914 truce in the World War One trenches. Great.

They have the top political brains in Britain working for them and the best these pair of clots can do is channel the Sainsbury's Christmas telly ad.

Perhaps we should be grateful that the John Lewis penguin didn't get a guest appearance.

I missed the UKIP Christmas message, though I imagine that – whatever it was – they'll be apologising for it soon.

WELL, here we are on the threshold of 2015.

Russia is being backed into a corner and may well come out fighting.

The Middle East is as mad as ever and falling oil prices could provoke Iran into doing something silly.

North Korea's lunacy is reaching fever pitch and we have the unlovely prospect of dead-eyed Pyongyang hackers probing the secrets of our internets.

Best of all, in 2015 we get to choose whether Ed Miliband or David Cameron will pilot us through these stormy waters.

Good luck for 2015, folks. We're going to fking need it.

Boxing Day sales – the proof that Britain is doomed

MADNESS: This is what our Empire has become

THERE was a time, not so long ago – certainly within our grandparents' lifetimes – when this country ruled the world.

We had an Empire – the largest history is ever likely to see – that was the envy of the world.

A small band of civil servants and an even smaller group of soldiers kept the peace among a quarter of this earth's population.

The Royal Navy, which had ended the horrors of the slave trade, kept the seas open and safe for peaceful and profitable commerce.

Now look at us.

As the sun set on Christmas Day, thousands of people were huddled in sleeping bags on the streets. No, not because of "evil Tory cuts". They were waiting for the Boxing Day sales. God give me fking strength! These fools had dragged themselves away from the 6,000-inch TV sets they had fought over on Black Friday to sit, in the freezing cold, to buy more shit they don't need and cannot afford.

Kettle

The sales didn't even wait for the end of Christ's birthday.

Debenhams, John Lewis, Next, House of Fraser and Marks & Spencer all launched sales online on Christmas Eve.

"Bargains" include Krups coffee machine (nope, me neither) which at £149.99 was half price. Half price? You mean that normally a coffee machine is three hundred quid? I've got a machine for making coffee… it's called a kettle.

But the power of the "bargain" is such that people will lie in the street, convinced that buying something they don't need is a good idea because it's not as ludicrously overpriced as usual.

It was estimated Brits spent £636m online on Christmas Day – more than half a BILLION spunked when we should be farting sprouts.

Britain today: from superpower to squabbling, sordid spendthrifts.

AIR-RAGE TARA'S DOGGING SECRET!

PANIC: Fun-lover Tara had attack at airport

AIR-RAGE posh totty Tara Palmer-Tomkinson has a saucy DOGGING secret.

The 43-year-old toff – who was arrested by armed cops last week after throwing a wobbler at Heathrow – revealed she loved to sneak up on couples rutting in public.

Tara confessed: "There is no greater fun than spotting frolicking couples in the park while shouting things like 'This is the park police! You are infringing regulations'!"

The babe also let slip that she's been known to do it outdoors herself – and once had sex halfway down a mountain.

During a skiing trip she cut short a jaunt down the piste to enjoy some red-hot scuttle action behind a tree.

And the lucky fella had lasting memories of the liaison because he injured himself on the job!

Tara revealed: "The man in question cricked his neck!"

Fling

Adventurous Tara hasn't ruled out having a lesbo fling, either. She said: "I've thought about it but I don't think I could go through with it.

"I had crushes on girls at school, but I like men too much."

But Tara hasn't always been so up for shagging. She didn't lose her cherry until she was in her 20s.

She said: "I was 21 when I lost my virginity. I was waiting until it was with someone I loved."

Society beauty Tara blamed a panic attack for the meltdown at Heathrow Airport which led to her being arrested. The socialite was detained following her reaction to being refused access to a first-class lounge.

Video footage filmed by a witness showed her sobbing, swearing and tearing out her hair extensions during the incident.

Tara, who has battled drug problems in the past, was taken to a west London police station and accepted a caution.

Following her arrest, the former reality television star said that an anxiety episode triggered her behaviour.

She said: "I wasn't drunk, there was no disorderly. I was cautioned, I saw a doctor, they were nice to me."

Eventually she flew to Switzerland to celebrate her 43rd birthday – which fell last Tuesday.

A Scotland Yard spokesman said: "Police at Heathrow Terminal 5 were made aware of disturbance at approximately 3.30pm on Saturday, December 20. Officers arrested a woman, who was taken to a police station and accepted a caution."

In June Tara told Jeremy Kyle she had become a virtual recluse who barely left her house due to anxiety.

Last year, she was arrested at Zurich airport after a scanner picked up an image of a gun in her luggage.

The apparent weapon turned out to be a pair of designer Chanel shoes with a high heel in the shape of a pistol.

Not yet New Year...and HALLOWEEN stuff in the shops!

CHRISTMAS is gone – so that means Easter eggs will be on the supermarket shelves any day soon.

But one shop has taken forward-thinking to a whole new level and is stocking HALLOWEEN gear more than TEN MONTHS before the annual spook-fest!

Reader Harry Purvis sent us this snap which he took at his local Quickie-Mart outlet in Wigan, Lancs.

Harry, 56, said: "I almost dropped my Special Brew!

"Halloween stuff at the end of December. These people are just obsessed with screwing money out of customers."

Sunday Sport vicar and Tourette's victim the Reverend Edward Regis, raged: "The increasing commercialisation of Halloween is – cumwads! – truly disgusting. Every year it seems to get earlier and ruins the magic for children. Fkparts!"

WORLD NEWS

KUWAIT

AN employer is being sued for negligence after his pet lions ate his laundry maid when their cage was left open.

Lourdes Hingco Abejuela, 23, was gobbled up by the felines as she pegged out the washing on the roof of his house in Kuwait City.

NORWAY

A PROSTITUTE won a landmark victory when an Oslo court ruled that police were wrong to claim taxes for the money she had made selling sex.

The 34-year-old whore had £6,000 seized when her flat was raided, but the court ruled that her gains can't be taxed as the state can't benefit from prostitution.

ITALY

THE Franciscan Order founded by Saint Francis of Assisi, who advocated a life of poverty, is in financial trouble after the discovery of massive fraud.

The 800-year-old order had invested tens of millions of euros in suspect firms currently under investigation in Switzerland for dodgy practices.

A PEST controller blew off his penis after trying to burn a wasps' nest with a makeshift flame thrower

Prapanpong Sinmalee, 29, used insect killer and then held a match to the spray, causing an explosion which blasted his cock off.

JAPAN

ARTIST Megumi Igarashi, who made a kayak modelled on her own vagina, has been arrested for "using three-dimensional obscene data".

Igarashi used a 3D printer to create the canoe. The Japanese are very touchy about obscenity, though think sniffing schoolgirls' panties is OK.

FRANCE

A FISHMONGER in women's lingerie was arrested for exposing himself to shoppers through his window.

The 48-year-old was drunk and cavorting while wearing a wig and false breasts in the the northern town of Auchel.

Tramps thrilled by cheap petrol

By SIMON DEAN simon@sundaysport.co.uk

BRITAIN'S petrol-drinking community last night raised a glass to falling pump prices as the cost of their favourite tipple plunged towards £1 a litre!

Plummeting world oil prices have been hailed across the country as the cost of filling up a tank has fallen to under 120p.

Many forecourts are flogging a litre for just 111p and there are suggestions the price could fall below 100p for the first time since 2009.

Homeless unleaded connoisseur Mal "The Wizard" Davies (right) is toasting the bargains.

Crude

Mal, from Goole, East Yorks, yelped: "In the summer I was thinking of – HA! – giving up the petrol for good.

"It was being priced out – HORSE! – of the ordinary man's range.

"I faced the horrible prospect of supping cider – BUCKET! – like a common hobo.

"But thanks to OPEC refusing to maintain a higher price of crude, I can enjoy my petrol. GAZZEEE! PING!"

Petrol drinking is an unusual, though not unknown hobby.

Brian Taylor, 45, was banned from petrol stations in 2005 after slashing the pumps so that he could drink the liquid and inhale fumes.

WALK OF SHAME

HIKER Barry Forbes, 45, of Exeter, sets off on New Year's Day aiming to visit every DOGGING site in the UK – even though he's not a dogger himself.

THERE'S NO POPE

A MAN distributing sandwiches and tins of fizzy pop to homeless folk, while claiming to be the Pope in disguise, was a harmless eccentric, authorities in Luton said.

BRITAIN'S GRUMPIEST COLUMNIST

Les Miserable

OF course, Christmas doesn't end on December 25, and the spending hasn't stopped yet either. The high streets and malls are full as Brits fork out even more dosh in the sales.

Have you cts not got enough stuff already? Could you please stop this endless acquisition of pointless products and gadgets for just a couple of days and try to focus more on what life is really all about?

Which, for me, is trawling YouTube for upskirt videos of female TV presenters.

It's life-affirming… and free.

ANOTHER festive feature of the Christmas holidays has been the arrival of snow in some parts of Britain.

Not where I live though – and I'm jumping for fing joy about it. Snow is God's way of proving that humans are fking idiots.

We put it on Christmas cards and sing carols about it, when in truth it's a cold white murdering machine. It causes pile-ups and sledging injuries and when it turns to ice, millions of us slip on it and break our legs on our way to the shops.

Snow – a complete and utter ct.

THERE was some controversy when a newspaper named Nigel Farage as its Briton Of The Year.

What a load of old shit – the greatest Briton is clearly Asian Steve who runs my local corner shop.

He's open from 6am until 11pm, seven days a week, and he does a special double deal on cooking sherry and hardcore porn DVDs that he calls his "Friday Night Special".

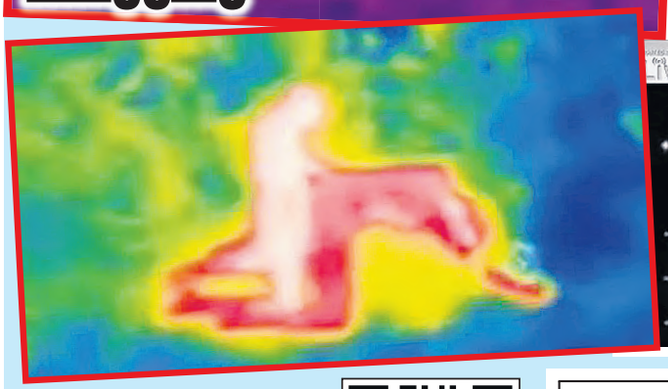
And he still sells single fags too – what a guy.

THE news that James Corden is to be awarded an OBE leaked a few days ago, ahead of the official announcement.

The only leak I'd ever want to see from Corden would be the urine seeping through his trousers after I've tied him to a chair and started chucking petrol all over him.

HOT N HORNY!

Police helicopter's thermal camera catches couple shagging



By NEIL GOODWIN
neil@sundaysport.co.uk

COP a load of THIS – as stunned police officers capture a randy couple bonking in a park using their helicopter's thermal imaging camera!

The British rozzers had been chasing car thieves when they chanced upon the amorous shaggers going at it doggy-style.

Footage of the embarrassing sting was uploaded to website Live Leak.

While it's not clear which police force shot the bonking, a male officer can be heard talking in what appears to be a Liverpool accent.

He radios back to his control room: "We've had a little look round the park and there's just a couple of vehicles in the viewing area. Apart from that… we've got a couple, actually…."

As the control room directs the chopper to a "dockland-bound road", the couple realise they've been spotted and race to pick their clothes up from a nearby bush!

Cockblockers

One viewer slammed the Dibble for interrupting the X-rated antics.

He wrote: "I like how they flipped through all the colours of the spectrum just to make sure. Leave 'em to it FFS.

"Flying cockblockers!"

NOW YOU CAN SEE THEM AT IT!

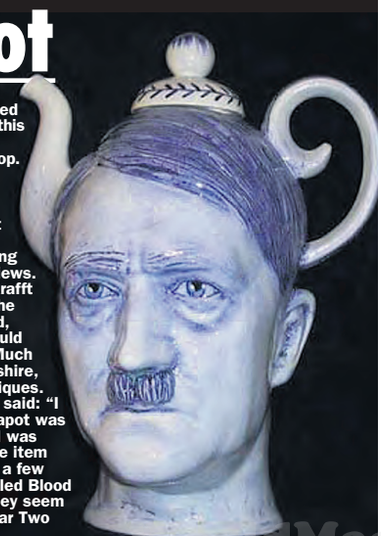
Fury over Hitler teapot



TEA drinkers spluttered out their brews when this teapot appeared in a Cotswolds antique shop.

It's a copy of a controversial Hitler teapot made by acclaimed ceramicist Charles Krafft – who was accused of holding some rather robust views.

But although the Krafft controversy ignited the internet and art world, nobody thought it would reach the village of Much Milling in Gloucestershire, home of Bramley Antiques.

Owner Glenys Ford said: "I never realised the teapot was of Hitler. As soon as I was alerted, I removed the item from display. I've got a few bids on a website called Blood and Honour, where they seem to quite like World War Two memorabilia."

CAPTION CONTEST

WIN £50

WE went nuts for your entries for last week's Caption Contest, folks!

And your postie certainly earned his Christmas tip, lugging sackloads of entries up the drive to us here at Sunday Sport towers.

Last week's deserved winner is Richard Chater of Stourbridge, with: "First Tulisa, then Kim Kardashian, and now it's Alvin the Chipmunk who has joined the sex tape elite."

There's £50 on the way, Richard.

And these runners-up gave us a good chortle, too.

Andy Berry of Lincoln suggested: Look at the size of the nuts on that squirrel."

Stephen Lowdon of Bishop Auckland tried: "Are you supposed to suck or blow?"

And John Deane of Penzance came up with: "Aw, the sweet nutcracker."

Laurie Dodds from Sunderland came up with: "Nothing like a mouthful of nuts – ask any woman I know!"

Now it's YOUR turn to see if you can win a cool £50 with your wit.

Just come up with a caption for this week's pic, fill in the coupon below and send it to our HQ: Caption Contest, c/o Sunday Sport, Floor 3, Maclaren House, Lancastrian Office Centre, Talbot Road, Old Trafford, Manchester, M32 0FP.

Entries must be with us by Friday.

STUDENTS TALK SEX!

SHAGGING on a chair, fancying their lecturers and losing their virginity on top of a hill.

Students have all sorts of saucy secrets that they're only too happy to share with their friends.

And when we caught up with these two beauties at Liverpool University they couldn't wait to tell us their naughtiest sex secrets.

Yes, it's that time of the week again when Sunday Sport lets Students Talk Sex.

FANCYING TEACHERS

KAREN: We had a student teacher at uni last year who was really fit and I fancied the pants off him.
CHLOE: Did you try it on?
KAREN: One day he asked what my name was when I replied 'Wouldn't you like to know' and winked at him. He went red and never spoke to me again. I was gutted.
CHLOE: There was a student teacher who fancied when I was doing A-levels. He was about 25 and was the spit of Brad Pitt. We nicknamed him STILF which stood for Student Teacher I'd Like To F.
KAREN: Did you get it on with him?
CHLOE: No, I was far too shy but I've regretted not having a go.

FAVOURITE POSITION

CHLOE: I love being on top during sex. It's the feeling of being in control that I like, it's much more fun.
KAREN: I really enjoy having sex sitting on a chair. It's challenging but it hits all the right spots and makes me come.

WORST SEX

CHLOE: What's been your worst sex?
KAREN: Probably with my ex-boyfriend when he was really drunk. He seemed to think he was filming a porno and was really rough.
CHLOE: What do you mean?
KAREN: He chucked me around the room like a rag doll and I was covered in bruises. It was awful.
CHLOE: I had really bad sex with my ex once. He was extremely drunk and he couldn't even find where to put it.
KAREN: But he managed to get it up?
CHLOE: Yes, but only for a couple of minutes. It was awful. I try not to get too drunk these days.

BUM FUN

KAREN: What do you think of bum sex?
CHLOE: I don't agree with it, it's totally wrong. Why would anyone let a guy stick a willy up their bum?
KAREN: So you haven't done it?
CHLOE: No. A couple of guys wanted to do it but I told them that it just wasn't happening. I've no plans to try it in the future either.
KAREN: I'm too scared to try because I'm sure it will hurt. There's no reason to do it, so I doubt I ever will.

BEST SEX

CHLOE: I had a great time the night I had sex on a wall with my fella.
KAREN: What made it so good?
CHLOE: We were both horny and couldn't wait to get home. It was totally spontaneous and that made it really erotic. I loved it.
KAREN: The best sex I've ever had was in a swimming pool at my boyfriend's house. His mum and dad's bedroom had patio doors that looked on to the pool so we knew they might catch us any time.
CHLOE: Did they?
KAREN: No, we got away with it, but the thought of being caught really turned me on. It was exciting and fun!

SEX TOYS

KAREN: What's your fave sex toy?
CHLOE: My Rampant Rabbit vibrator. The best thing about Rabbits is that there are loads of different types so once you get bored of one you can buy the new updated version.
KAREN: Do you reckon it's as good as the real thing?
CHLOE: Not quite but it's a very close call. Rabbits hit all the right spots and always make you orgasm.
KAREN: I've got a vibrating willy ring I won at an Ann Summers party. I tried it out with my fella but it just tickled.
CHLOE: So it did do it for you?
KAREN: No, it just made me laugh. I'm not that keen on sex toys.

ONE-NIGHT STANDS

CHLOE: Since you started uni how many one-nighters have you had?
KAREN: Two. One of them was really good-looking and a great shag but the other one was awful.
CHLOE: Why?
KAREN: The guy was ugly and crap in bed. I only shagged him because he was my ex-boyfriend's best mate and I wanted to spite him. It wasn't the best reason to have a one-nighter.
CHLOE: I've had two and I regret one of them. It was because he was a close friend and it made things difficult between us afterwards.
KAREN: Would you have more?
CHLOE: Hopefully not, they're not all that satisfying in the long run.

But who knows? I like the fact that there's no strings attached, like in a long-term relationship, and you move on afterwards.

FIRST-TIME SEX

KAREN: How did your first time go?
CHLOE: It wasn't quite how I'd planned it. I ended up doing it on top of a hill when I was 17.
KAREN: Who with?
CHLOE: It was with a guy I met at a house party and got drunk with. He lasted about 20 minutes and was actually quite good at it. He didn't tell me but I suspect he'd done it before.

It wasn't how I thought I'd lose my cherry though.
KAREN: I lost my virginity to my first boyfriend when I was 16. I was so desperate to do it and experiment so I jumped on him one afternoon when we were lying on his bed.
CHLOE: What was it like for you?
KAREN: It was really good because he was experienced so I just let him take the reins. He went for 15 minutes and even gave me an orgasm. I enjoyed it.

"I just let him take the reins... and he gave me an orgasm!"

Welcome to the world famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice or experience than our own Agony Angels! This week Krystal Webb has been reading your letters...

Dear Krystal,

I HAVE been with my girlfriend for three months and we are both 27.

She is well-fit with blonde hair and a big rack.

We have a good relationship and the sex is out of this world.

I am quite shocked though as she has just told me she likes being roasted by a few different men and would like me to round up some mates and get them to all have a go on her.

I don't know how I feel about this and whether I want to share her.

Simon, Blackheath

Krystal says...

SOME women like to have sex with a few men at the same time as it can make them feel in control.

If you aren't comfortable with this then you need to tell her because relationships are all about give and take and respecting each others' wishes. She should respect the fact that this isn't something you want to do.

I would say think about it before you jump in head first and discuss it with your girlfriend.

Dear Krystal,

I MET this really cool girl last Saturday. She was out on her works Christmas party and she looked stunning.

We got chatting then snogging before ending up at hers for a shag.

We were texting and planned to meet up again but I have now found out that she gave one of my friends a gob job in an alleyway before she pulled me. I don't know who to believe as I really like her.

Christian, New Forest

Krystal says...

IT sounds true to me — as disgusting as it may seem. The thing is, if she was happy to sleep with you after meeting you that night it does mean she is a bit easy!

I think you should ask her about it and if it's true make your decision from there.

She may be good for a bit of fun but not for a relationship!

Boss made my spank dreams all come true!

Letter of the day

Dear Krystal,

I'VE often fantasised about having my bum slapped and tickled but I daren't tell my husband in case he thinks I'm a pervert.

But recently I decided to make my erotic dream come true—with my boss.

He often makes cheeky comment about my bottom and how much he'd like to spank it.

A couple of weeks ago I made up my mind to see just how serious he was about it.

We went for a few drinks after work and then headed back to the office.

When I got back to my desk I made sure he got a good view of my butt as I bent down to my bottom drawer.

Trembling

And, of course, that really got him going.

He told me I deserved a good spanking and ordered me to take off my skirt and panties and stretch over a chair.

I was trembling with dozen stinging slaps that left my bum cheeks burning.

I turned round to see that my boss had an enormous bulge in the front of his trousers and I made a grab for him, quickly unleashing his eight-incher.

I took him to the brink of orgasm with my mouth before pulling him away and inviting him to screw me over the desk.

Terrified

I felt I was in heaven as he slipped his rock-hard rod into my wet love-hole doggy-style and pumped up to a steady rhythm.

Eventually I screamed out in orgasm as I felt him lose his love-juice deep inside me.

The boss keeps suggesting that we have another spanking and sex session and I must say that I feel very tempted.

But I'm terrified might wreck my otherwise happy marriage. What should I do?

CH, South Yorks

Krystal says...

DON'T panic. What your husband doesn't know can't hurt him.

Dear Krystal,

I HAVE been with my girlfriend for a year and I thought we were getting on great until a few weeks ago.

My girlfriend is quite good friends with one of her exes and they still spend time together. We all went to the gym together the other day and, in the changing room, I discovered her ex is hung like a donkey.

He is double the size of me.

I was shocked and it made me think I am not satisfying her like he did.

Marvin, Kent

Krystal says...

I KNOW some people think this saying is not true but it's not the size, it's what you do with it that counts!

If you think about it, there is a reason that he is an ex boyfriend and not a current one. She has been with you for a year now and things seem to be going well so don't get jealous over this and keep enjoying this relationship.

Dear Krystal,

I AM a 24-year-old woman and have been with my husband, who is 10 years older, for five years.

We had a really great sex life up until a year ago but now its pretty much dead. He shows me no affection and we haven't had a good session for months.

I have had been eyeing up our window cleaner and I think he may be interested. Do you think I should pursue this?

Laura, Wales

Krystal says...

I CAN imagine how frustrating it must be for you but, before you rush into anything, I suggest you try to repair your marriage. You must have loved your husband to have married him so hopefully things will get back on track.

THE single woman is often vulnerable to the machinations of unscrupulous tradesmen.

Pubic hair clogging the lint trap of a clothes dryer is a simple enough problem to solve and should cost no more than the tradesman's standard callout fee.

Far, far too many women are tricked into rimming – or orally stimulating the anus – of tradesmen in return for a few quid off an inflated bin.

Always select a reputable tradesman, preferably one recommended by friends. Failing that, find someone with a clean arsehole.

ARSE LICKER: The pic posted on the website

RADIO DJ 'RIMJOB' ROW

A RADIO station has been forced to apologise after a DJ gave away festival tickets to a reader that RIMMED him!

By BRAD CHADWICK
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Cheeky Paul Hip offered tickets to the Mysteryland event to any lady listeners who agreed to LICK cream off his anus.

One woman did just that – and Hip posted pictures of the rimmage on the website of Chile-based station 40 Principales.

But some thought the stunt was a little ripe and the radio station issued this statement:

"Dear listeners,

Following an image published on social media, that shows one of our listeners taking a challenge to get tickets for a festival, we would like to communicate the following:

The "40 Principales" team apologizes to all the people offended for the image published.

We want to clarify that the challenge done by our listener was absolutely voluntary and proposed by her, as part of a contest that was open to anyone who wanted to take part of it.

Also, we are sorry for our mistake accepting that challenge.

We hope that you understand that this was during a playful context and there wasn't bad intentions, and intention to offend or denigrate our audience.

Hug."

SEX STARS

LEGENDARY director Joone, the genius behind some of the world's best EVER adult movies, helmed all three Island Fever epics.

He is known as the Spielberg of Sp* and when he calls, the leading adult actresses come running!

Topping the bill here is superstar Tera Patrick but she's ably supported by top-drawer movie shaggers Julia Ann and Briana Banks.

And of course, you can't have proper shagging without some good hard cks and Island Fever has some of the biggest and best in the business. After all, what man is going to refuse a month in a tropical paradise bonking some of the most beautiful women in the world?

HERE'S your chance to get your mitts on the greatest sex films trilogy ever made...for a fraction of the normal price!

Island Fever was the ground-breaking hard- core porn film that rewrote the rules in terms of both content the budget.

The world's leading adult stars were taken to the paradise islands of Hawaii, then shagged daft in pin-sharp HD for our viewing pleasure!

This no-expense-spared extravaganza became the must-have DVD and copies changed hands at prices many times their face value.

The two follow-ups didn't disappoint and, if anything, pushed the envelope even further. This time the juices were flowing on tropical Tahiti and Bora Bora bore witness to bum tricks as even more red-hot babes dropped their panties and their inhibitions to bring us a tropical feast of fing and sucking.

The greatest cinematic trilogy since The Godfather would normally cost you £25 each but today, in conjunction with Private Shops we can offer you one for £15 or all three for just £25.

Remember, this is hardcore pornography and not available on the internet or by mail order. The only way you can get yours at this amazing price is to get yourself along to one of the licensed sex shop on this page.

We've negotiated this unbeatable price as a thank-you to all our loyal readers.

DOG LEADS BY MICK LIVESEY

Fast Con can do the trick

SITTINGBOURNE has a quality card on offer tonight featuring some decent open-class races and it's live and free in bookmakers nationwide courtesy of BAGS/SIS.

Con Te Partiro is a greyhound I'm keen to keep on my side and tonight I think he looks banker material in the hurdle race.

In Italian, it literally means 'to leave with you' I suggest if you punt him the only thing that will be leaving is the bookies' money flying out of their satchels.

Once a quality flat dog with Owen McKenna, now in the UK with Ricky Holloway I expect him to become one of the hottest properties on the hurdle scene in 2015 here in the UK.

Staying at Sittingbourne, I really like the look of Toolatetosell.

There is something about him and although he's not been in scintillating form of late I'm taking him to win.

He's been mixing it at a higher level but tonight he's got a great draw and dropped in class so I'm expecting him to go well.

HOVE TODAY

Without doubt the main meeting of the day featuring the Coral Olympic worth a fantastic £5,000 to-the-winner.

It's ended up a real puzzle because of the trap-draw.

T6 Thatchers Champ and T1 Benkaat Nero have come out best of all on that score.

I envisage it getting messy and draws win races, I've decided to go with Benkaat Nero purely on that basis and I think 6/1 is too big for a dog that's drawn well.

He may not have the same high profile compared to Droopys Odell, Norris or El Pedro but he's got ability and easily good enough to seize the initiative if they suffer a bumpy ride.

Dragon Big Bux can consider himself one of the unluckiest greyhounds to be eliminated in the semi-finals of the National Sprint.

He suffered first-bend crowding and eventually was beaten just out of a qualifying spot in third.

He still clocked a faster time than three of the qualifiers who lined up for the final.

That form is of the highest calibre when talking about sprinting so he must have a big chance today.

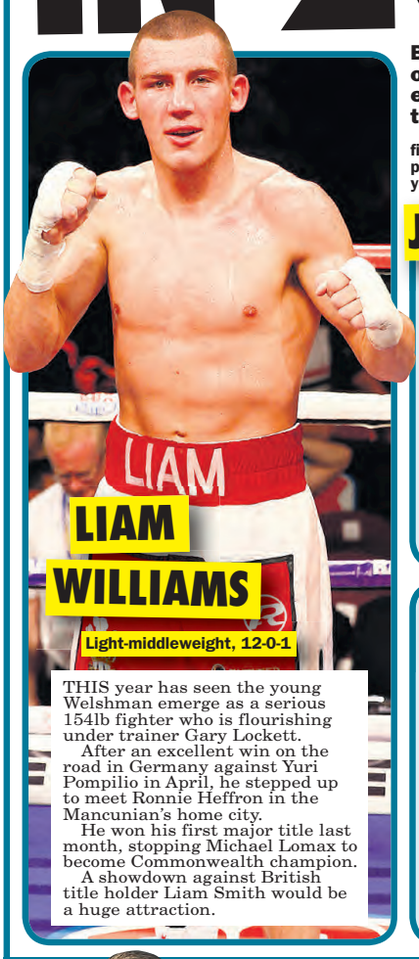
LILLO'S RINGPIECE

STEVE LILLIS' KNOCKOUT BOXING COLUMN

ONES TO WATCH IN 2015

BRITISH boxing is crammed full of flair and 2015 will see the emergence of some serious talent.

Over the years, Sunday Sport has been first to the punch with so many great prospects. So today we name our five youngsters who will be knockout in 2015.



LIAM WILLIAMS

Light-middleweight, 12-0-1

THIS year has seen the young Welshman emerge as a serious 154lb fighter who is flourishing under trainer Gary Lockett.

After an excellent win on the road in Germany against Yuri Pompilio in April, he stepped up to meet Ronnie Heffron in the Mancunian's home city.

He won his first major title last month, stopping Michael Lomax to become Commonwealth champion.

A showdown against British title holder Liam Smith would be a huge attraction.

JACK CATTERALL

Light-welterweight, 10-0

CHORLEY'S Catterall is still relatively unknown, but many more performances like his recent stoppage of GB Olympic captain Thomas Stalker and he'll become a household name.

Some people have already compared him with Ricky Hatton, and it's easy to see why.

When he lands, rivals are hurt – six of his wins are by KO.

He already owns the WBO European crown and Frank Warren will let him off the leash in the next 12 months.

ANTHONY JOSHUA

Heavyweight, 10-0

AT LONDON 2012 big Josh won gold despite iffy decisions against Erislandy Savon and Roberto Cammarelle.

Joshua, 25, only boxed 40 times as an amateur and some of the hype put on him has been cringeworthy.

There has been stupid criticism over Eddie Hearn's matchmaking, but it has been spot-on considering his lack of experience.

Perhaps the most significant praise has come from world champ Wladimir Klitschko, who believes the Brit is the real deal. That's good enough for me.

CALLUM SMITH

Super-middleweight, 15-0

SPEAK to any professional who has witnessed 24-year-old Callum train or sparred with him and they will name the Scouser as British boxing's best prospect.

The youngest brother from the famous fighting family carries power, accuracy, times his shots superbly and has shown patience when needed in a couple of his recent bouts.

Promoter Eddie Hearn believes a clash against George Groves in 2015 will be his breakout fight.

LUKE CAMPBELL

Lightweight, 9-0

CAMPBELL gave British boxing one of its great nights when he won its first boxing gold medal at London 2012.

Southpaw Campbell's timing and accuracy have impressed pundits and fans.

He looks a special talent and early next summer is slated to face fellow Hull man Tommy Coyle in an open-air clash at a local rugby league stadium.

Hatton: Mayweather and Pacquiao not fighting is absolutely pathetic!

RICKY HATTON has branded Floyd Mayweather and Manny Pacquiao "pathetic" for not meeting in the richest fight of all time.

There is hope that their £70million clash might take place in May, but there are many obstacles to overcome. Hatton (left), who lost to both men, said: "It's pathetic, to be honest with you.

"You think they'd just go 50-50 with the money. But you get one wanting 51 per cent and the other isn't happy with 49 per cent. It's unbelievable!

"I fought the pair of them and they won't fight."

OBSTACLES: Mayweather & Pacquiao

CAUTIOUS: Dai Young

Gloucester will be out to hurt us, says Young

RUGBY UNION

DAI YOUNG expects his Wasps team to be met by a "hurting" Gloucester side in today's Premiership clash at Kingsholm.

While Wasps launched a new era at the Ricoh Arena in Coventry by crushing London Irish last weekend, Gloucester came horribly unstuck at home to fierce west country rivals Bath.

Gloucester's 39-16 defeat left them 10 points off the play-off pace, while victory for Wasps this weekend could take them into the top five.

Young, though, is cautious about the challenge ahead, with Wasps having yet to record a Premiership away win this season, and claiming a solitary victory from their last five trips to Kingsholm.

"They are going to be hurting because they lost their last home game," he said.

Dangerous

"I see a real hungry Gloucester team playing in front of a packed house again. They don't lose on a regular basis there, so we know we've got to back up last week.

"And we still need that 80-minute performance because, quite frankly, last weekend was only a 40-minute performance.

"Gloucester have got a decent pack with a very good set-piece, then they've got bags of pace behind.

"They are as dangerous as anybody in broken play, so they like to play wide, and we expect them to play with a lot of width."

Gloucester know a win would maintain distance between themselves and the bottom three.

"Wasps have moved a little bit ahead of us, so it's a big challenge," Gloucester rugby director David Humphreys said.

"It is going to be a tough test for us against a team we're competing against directly."

Dortmund fan left browned off by toaster...

IT'S that time again when the shops are full of people returning crap unwanted presents.

One of these will be the unlucky Borussia Dortmund fan who was given a toaster decorated in his favourite team's colours and badge.

Except that the toast it made was emblazoned with Barcelona's FCB moniker.

Surely even a German found the funny side of that...

GET READY FOR ANOTHER DOSE OF FINANCIAL UNFAIR PLAY!

THE new year sees the Financial Fair Play sanctions start to kick in for our Football League clubs.

The fact that the word "fair" appears in any FIFA-sanctioned project immediately suggests it will be anything but.

It works in pretty much the same way as someone starting off by saying to you: "No offence but..." just before calling you a twat.

And so it has proved to be the case. Transfer embargos have been handed out to free-spending clubs who, if they have overspent reasonably wisely, won't be affected in the slightest and, if their season ends with promotion, will be able to happily justify their gamble. Gambling is PRECISELY what Financial Fair Play was introduced to prevent, but it has proved to be nothing more than the methodone substitute for the harder stuff of previous seasons' money madness that left clubs on the brink of extinction.

There will be plenty of clubs that, like any helpless junkie, will simply abuse the new rules.

The goalposts are already being moved as it was looking like most of the Championship would be facing a transfer ban.

The fact that loan signings and free agents are allowed makes a mockery of any embargo anyway.

Financial Fair Play now has all the credibility of a Daily Express long-term weather forecast.

If they really want to properly control the spending of our league clubs, the only thing that will work is a wage cap.

Chaplow the latest to make a Twit of himself

THIS year has seen many downfalls thanks to a badly-timed tweet.

The latest example of engaging Twitter before brain came on Boxing Day from Millwall midfielder Richard Chaplow (right), who hadn't travelled with his team-mates for their trip to Norwich.

While his side were being tonked 6-1, Chaplow decided to wish not for a footballing miracle, but for SNOW!

An hour later, he attempted to make up for his faux pas with a rallying call to his team-mates and the fans for the Lions' next game.

Unfortunately he got the wrong day...

Richard chaplow
Have to dust ourselves down and go again sat against another good team, always a good thing in the champ the rate the games come

Reading v Norwich

Sunday, Kick-off 3pm

NORWICH boss Neil Adams can't wait to tear into Reading.

The Canaries head to Berkshire on the back of a Boxing Day thrashing of Millwall, who were hammered 6-1 at Carrow Road.

Adams said: "A lot of teams will not welcome another game so soon after the last one – but after a performance like that, my boys can't wait to go again."

Reading drew 2-2 at Brighton in new boss Steve Clarke's second game in charge.

Adams added: "Their confidence might be low, but they have brought in a vastly experienced manager in Steve Clarke – he's one of the top boys in the game.

"And we know what can happen in this division if you're not at it.

"The form and the confidence we have in the squad, we'll go there believing we can win."

Hudd'field v Bolton

Sunday, Kick-off 3pm

EMILE HESKEY reckons Bolton's golden oldies can fire them into the promotion frame.

Heskey scored on his Bolton debut from a pass from fellow 36-year-old Eidur Gudjohnsen to beat Blackburn 2-1 on Boxing Day and extend their unbeaten run to eight games.

The former England man said: "The sky's the limit.

"The game is getting quicker, but experience will always help you."

Huddersfield need their own former top-flight striker to stay in the groove after ex-Everton frontman James Vaughan scored for the first time in a year in Friday's 2-2 draw at Rotherham.

Boss Chris Powell said: "Strikers always want to score as they are always judged on how many goals they get. It's good for James as it's been a tough 2014 for him."

Fulham v Brighton

Monday, Kick-off 8pm

KIT SYMONS can't wait to dive into the January transfer market.

The Fulham manager admitted Friday's defeat at Bournemouth exposed his squad's weakness.

He said: "I think there'll be a couple of new faces coming in.

"It's whether there is the right player available at the right place."

Brighton are close to appointing a new manager but Nathan Jones will remain in temporary charge for this game.

Chris Hughton, Tim Sherwood and Tony Pulis are among the leading contenders for the job.

Albion chief exec Paul Barber said: "Nathan will be in charge at Fulham.

"That will allow us to make sure we have plenty of time to talk to the candidates we are considering, to establish what they are about and make sure we do things as properly as we can."

ON FIRE: Eddie Howe says confidence is flowing through his Bournemouth team

WE WON'T BEE IN A FLAP, SAYS WARBY

BRENTFORD boss Mark Warburton is refusing to panic despite their sorry start to Christmas.

The fifth-placed Bees went down 4-2 to Ipswich on Boxing Day after recent back-to-back victories.

They at least quickly have the chance to put matters right today against another side chasing successive promotions in the shape of Wolves, who also came up from League One last term.

Warburton (right) said: "It's not doom and gloom. We're in the top six, we've got 40 points and we're a hell of a team now.

"We were at home, we were keen to come out and impose ourselves on the game – and we were one down in seconds. You look for a reaction. We got on the ball, passed it round nicely and created chances.

"They had six shots and scored four goals, so that tells you everything.

"We're in decent shape, although we were fairly disappointed."

Wolves, who sit four points adrift of the play-offs, will kick off buoyed by their win over Watford 48 hours earlier.

Striker Nouha Dicko said: "Now we have a situation where virtually the whole squad is fit.

"I think that will make a real difference and we'll do well in the second half of the season."

Millwall v Bournemouth

Sunday, Kick-off 3pm

BOURNEMOUTH boss Eddie Howe has challenged his players to carry on cruising their way to the Premier League.

The Championship leaders host struggling Millwall on the back of a 14-game unbeaten run of league action.

And, after brushing Fulham aside with a comfortable 2-0 win in their latest outing, Howe made it clear he wants the good times to keep on rolling.

He said: "When you look at our recent record, we've had big wins.

"It's difficult enough at this level to win one game, yet alone to win consistently and get consecutive wins, which has become a real feature in our game.

"The confidence is really running through the team right now, so the challenge for us is to maintain our standards and keep it going."

Millwall will arrive on the south coast still smarting from a 6-1 thumping at Norwich on Boxing Day.

Unsurprisingly, manager Ian Holloway wasn't happy about that dismal performance. The Lions could drop into the bottom three if results don't go their way today – and Holloway (right) knows he'll be facing a busy few weeks when the transfer window opens next month.

By JON WEST

He said: "I'm trying to build a team that can sustain a run of matches at this level and actually get a d ecent run of results.

"Unfortunately we are not quite there at the moment.

Surgery

"But I'm not going to wilt. I'm going to find people who can deal with that for me.

"There are still 23 games left. That's half the season.

"We're a long way behind where I want us to be and that's the challenge. The challenge is to keep getting better.

"We've got some major surgery to do. You can't be a Millwall player if you can't stand up and be counted."

KING IN PAYBACK PROMISE

Blackburn v Boro

Sunday, Kick-off 3pm

WINGER Josh King says Blackburn can make it up to their fans by beating Middlesbrough today.

More than 4,500 travelling supporters watched Rovers go down 2-1 against derby rivals Bolton.

And King wants to make amends on home soil.

He said: "We had amazing support so we've got to thank them. We're just as disappointed as they are that we left with nothing.

"But the great thing about football is there's always another chance to bounce back, and that's what we'll try to do."

Middlesbrough have put themselves right back in the promotion picture with a run of just two defeats in 19.

But boss Aitor Karanka has warned they haven't won anything yet.

The Spaniard said: "It's 23 games gone and there's another 23 left. You don't win anything in December."

STU HAVE TO GET BEHIND US

N Forest v B'ham

Sunday, 12pm – Sky Sports 1

STUART PEARCE has begged Nottingham Forest fans to get behind his team as they look for an end to their miserable run of results.

The Reds have won just two games in 17 attempts and have slipped out of the promotion frame.

Pearce said: "We need the fans and they have to support this team.

"We need to try to get a win – we need to beat Birmingham."

The Blues travel to Forest after a 4-0 Boxing Day defeat at Derby.

But boss Gary Rowett said: "We lost at home to a top team that I very much expect to get promoted in Derby, so we're not going to worry about it too much.

"We're just going to look at the things that we didn't do well enough and look at how we can try to respond in the next game."

MILES BETTER: Eden Hazard is a better all-round player now, says Jose Mourinho

JOSE MOUR THAN HAPPY EDEN HAZ IMPROVED

JOSE MOURINHO reckons Eden Hazard is a different player these days – and he's proving it on the pitch.

The Belgian was the star of Chelsea's 2-0 win over West Ham on Boxing Day and is expected to keep his place at Southampton today.

Last season Mourinho fried Hazard for failing to track back in the Champions League semi-final with Atletico Madrid.

Hazard had been critical of Mourinho's tactics, but the pair appear to be in perfect harmony at the moment.

And that's because the player has buckled down without losing the flair, his boss said.

"All credit to him, he didn't lose any of his spontaneity, he didn't lose his happiness, he didn't lose his creativity, but he picked up some other qualities," said Mourinho.

Flicking

"Even to look at him physically, he's a small guy but he's very strong. He scores with his head, he jumps well, he's strong to hold off contact from opponents.

"We are doing that bit by bit. We didn't try to do it by flicking a switch.

"It's progressive and a great evolution."

John Terry was the scorer of the first goal against the Hammers, with Diego Costa adding the second.

The skipper had also opened the scoring at Stoke last Monday and, despite having just turned 34, he remains one of the first names on the team sheet.

Mourinho showed the door to Frank Lampard in the summer because he was past his prime, but he promised he wouldn't do the same to JT.

"There are no doubts that John Terry is going to get another contract. I know that, he knows that," added Mourinho.

"He's a very important player in the team so the next contract sooner or later will come. It's a formality."

GOING FOR IT: Koeman

Soton v Chelsea

Sunday, 2.05pm – Sky Sports 1

Offensive

Ronald Koeman will send his Southampton team out to attack at St Mary's.

When it was suggested the Saints boss might "park the bus", in the words of Mourinho, he had to have the expression explained to him.

Then he said: "No, we'll do it our way.

"It's important, game by game, to do our best and what we like to do, play attractive football, offensive football and go for it.

"But that means we do it every game, not just because our opponent is Chelsea or Man City.

"We go for it. That's football – if you don't go for it, stay home."

B'pool v Rotherham

Sunday, Kick-off 3pm

BLACKPOOL boss Lee Clark says he's facing a striking crisis for the clash with Rotherham.

Ishmael Miller is suspended, Steven Davies is doubtful with a neck injury, while Nile Ranger has gone AWOL.

"We're running out of strikers," Clark said.

"We'll need to come up with a plan, a system to compensate for that."

Steve Evans admits his Rotherham players should not take anything for granted against the Tangerines, who are rock bottom of the Championship.

"You have to have a heart and desire," Evans said.

"This is a real tough and unforgiving league, whether you play top or bottom."

Slade has still got that sixy feeling!

Cardiff v Watford

Sunday, Kick-off 3pm

RUSSELL SLADE insists Cardiff can still claim a place in the top six

Slade was left gutted on Boxing Day when his side conceded a late goal to 10-man Charlton – a slip that cost the Welsh side only their second away league win.

That left the Bluebirds in mid-table, seven points adrift of the top six.

But Slade (above) said: "It's still realistic, there's no doubt about that, but we've got to learn quickly.

"We've got to continue to improve and if we do that, we do have talent.

"We have players that can win games and we have players that have got out of the Championship before.

"But we've got to be better if we're going to get where we want to be."

Watford defender Sebastien Bassong has demanded a response following the home defeat to Wolves. The former Tottenham man said: "We need some professionalism. That's our job, it's what we get paid for.

"We have to be able to bounce back and carry on playing regardless of the last result. We have to go there with a winning mentality and a certain level of desire and professionalism.

"We lost today, but the game is behind us and we have no time to think about it. We need to think about the next game and try to get a result from Cardiff.

"We can't have another performance like the last one, especially at home. We have to make sure we rectify that."

NIGE TO OUT-FOX TIGER FANS

NIGEL PEARSON admits he may sit with Hull fans today, even though he is braced for a hostile reception from them.

The Leicester boss became public enemy No.1 on Humberside after quitting the KC Stadium for the King Power three years ago.

He is allowed back on the touchline today after a one-match ban, but likes to watch matches from the stands. Now he is keeping everyone guessing.

And he may amazingly watch the game with the home supporters who cheered him from 2010-11.

Pearson (left) joked: "Will I be back on the touchline? You'll have to wait and see.

"I might surprise you by being there or I may be in amongst the Hull fans. You never know.

"I don't know where I'd be accommodated if I decide to sit in the stands because that is not 100 per cent guaranteed. Watch this space."

Cure the crocks & we're Gunner be contenders

MATHIEU DEBUCHY has warned Arsenal will be firing on all cylinders when their walking wounded return.

Aaron Ramsey, Mikel Arteta, Mesut Ozil and Laurent Koscielny are among those on the treatment table.

The injured foursome have played no part in Arsenal's recent upturn in fortunes.

But they are all closing in on a comeback.

Ahead of today's London derby at West Ham, defender Debuchy, 29, said: "They are all important players who are coming back from injury.

"That will be good and will give us a boost.

"Hopefully in January everyone will be fit and will be with the team.

"It's so important to win against West Ham today and then Southampton.

"We have great confidence and the belief that we can do it.

"We just need a run of wins – that is what has been missing so far this season."

Arsenal have been slowly gathering pace as they push for a Champions League spot.

Surprise packages West Ham stand in their way, but Gunners boss Arsene Wenger says much can change in the run-in to the season.

He said: "I don't give importance to the table at the moment.

"There's 20 games to go. It's very tight and it's down to consistency now.

"Every game now is down to consistency and reproducing the performances.

"We need to prepare quickly, focus quickly and that is an ability we want to show at West Ham."

Hindrance

Hammers midfielder Alex Song will face his old club for the first time since leaving to join Barcelona in a £15million deal in 2012.

Wenger added: "Alex is a good player. I brought him here at the age of 17 and kept him despite all the opinions against him.

"He developed into a very good player. You don't need to convince me he's a good player."

West Ham boss Sam Allardyce has told Arsenal: "Our new stadium will be the making of us, not the hindrance it was for you".

The Gunners head east in the knowledge the Hammers will soon by leaving the Boleyn Ground for the Olympic Stadium in Stratford.

In 2006 Arsenal moved from Highbury to the Emirates Stadium.

But that cost so much they couldn't spend as much on the team and won nothing for nine years.

Allardyce said: "The big advantage is that we don't have to spend £450m.

"It's the best bit of business ever done by a set of football owners."

The Hammers lost 2-0 at leaders Chelsea on Boxing Day, but are a different proposition at home, having already beaten Manchester City and Liverpool there.

And Allardyce added: "I'm relying on the home form that we've shown over the last seven games to be there in abundance.

"We've had six wins and a draw at Upton Park. We've turned it into a real fortress and I hope that'll be the case against Arsenal."

GROUND ZERO: Sam's happy by the low cost of the Olympic Stadium

CONFIDENT: Sterling

STERLING: WE CAN STILL KOP TOP-FOUR SPOT

RAHEEM STERLING insists Liverpool still have the top four in their sights.

The Reds made a mess of their return to the Champions League this season as they crashed out at the group stage.

But Sterling believes that despite a wretched start to the campaign, Brendan Rodgers' men can come on strong to secure another crack at Europe's elite next season.

Sterling's match-winner at Burnley on Boxing Day gave Liverpool a first victory in four Premier League games to lift them up ninth.

They have now lost just one in nine in all competitions and with Swansea to visit Anfield tomorrow and a New Year's Day trip to bottom club Leicester to follow, the winger, is upbeat about the Kop club's prospects.

Doubt

Sterling said: "We're just taking it step by step. In the last few games you can really see the belief back in the boys.

"Even at difficult times, you could see we are sticking together and trying to grind results out.

"Hopefully that can get the points over the next few games. We didn't start off as well as we would have liked.

"But with a decent few wins, we can be right in there for a top-four push."

Swansea won't make it easy on Merseyside, as Garry Monk's men are chasing a hat-trick of wins and are a place above Liverpool in the table as the rookie boss keeps proving people wrong.

Monk insisted: "When I took the job at the start of the season, I knew I had to have a plan because I knew a lot of people would doubt me.

"People had us down as relegation favourites, but I think that in every game this season apart from a few minutes in each we have been fantastic.

"I keep pushing them and if you ask the players whether they understand what I want, I think they do.

"Yes, we might need another 12 points to get to that 40 mark, but I don't want to be the side looking over their shoulders."

PEREZ GETS A SIR-PRISE BOOST

NEWCASTLE boss Alan Pardew has revealed that Spanish wonder kid Ayoze Perez caught Sir Alex Ferguson's eye after his Boxing Day showing at Old Trafford.

Pardew took the 21-year-old forward out of the 3-1 defeat to Man United early to save him for today's clash with Everton.

That drew boos from Toon fans who have adopted Perez (left) as a cult hero.

But Pards explained: "I know the fans weren't happy, but they will be happier if he plays 90 minutes on Sunday.

"If he progresses like he is, we don't know where he'll end up.

"He's surprising us with how good he is and his performance today here on a big stage.

"I'm talking about for his country and hopefully for this club that he's going to have a fantastic career. I was lucky enough to have a quick glass of wine with Sir Alex and he caught his eye."

The Magpies should have midfielder Cheick Tiote back and Pardew added: "We've got two home games now and we need to try to take four points."

Roberto Martinez says his Everton side must play with their heads rather than their hearts to address their current slump.

The Toffees have won just once in six Premier League matches and are languishing in mid-table.

"I don't think we are in a great moment of the season," said Martinez.

"We're not lacking confidence, but the reaction now has to be to know what we are doing.

"When you miss chances it gives a sense of frustration. You start playing with your heart rather than your head."

Everton keeper Tim Howard and captain Phil Jagielka are set to miss today's game after injuries forced them off in the 1-0 defeat to Stoke on Boxing Day.

Martinez added: "Tim has pulled his calf and we'll assess him in the morning. It's unlikely he'll be available for Newcastle.

"Phil Jagielka appears to have stretched his ankle ligaments, so I think he will also miss Sunday."

Everton will also give fitness tests to Kevin Mirallas and John Stones after the pair picked up knocks against the Potters.

FERNANDO: IT'S GOING TO BE TURF AT CLARETS

FERNANDO has warned that Burnley can WRECK Man City's dream of making yet more history.

The Blues' Boxing Day success at West Brom stretched their streak to nine straight victories in all competitions.

It has left them on the brink of a club record 10th win in succession ahead of the Clarets' visit to the Etihad today.

But midfielder Fernando – who scored his first goal for City in the Baggies success – insists their opponents can't be taken lightly. He said: "The winning run is very important for the squad – we know how big a club this is.

"We know we must always fight to win. Now we are in a good run and hopefully we can continue winning.

"It won't be easy as Burnley are a very good team, but we are ready and I'm sure we will play a good game against them and we'll try to win.

"I've watched some of their games and they are a quality team. They are really good on the break, so we will have to be careful.

MOVING ON: Trippier

Crucial

"We'll have to control the ball and play to our style to get a result."

Manuel Pellegrini's second-place side are looking to keep the pressure on leaders Chelsea.

Fernando added: "It's a short turnaround, but we are ready. We know this period is crucial in the Premier League."

James Milner again led City's attack for the Boxing Day trip in the absence of the injured Sergio Aguero and Edin Dzeko.

Stevan Jovetic was an unused substitute, but both he and Vincent Kompany may feature against the Clarets.

Burnley's Kieran Trippier will face his former club convinced he made the right decision to leave City.

Trippier was a member of the City side that beat Chelsea in the final of the FA Youth Cup in 2008, but he never played a senior game for the club before joining the Clarets in 2011.

The 24-year-old has blossomed at Turf Moor and looks destined for a long Premier League career, whether he helps Burnley stay up this season or not.

Trippier said: "I know so many lads back there who haven't made it, who were very good players, but who have floated out of the game and ended up working on building sites and the like.

"I just never thought I was going to get a chance. I've not been back since I left so it will be a great day, but with absolutely no regrets."

GUS WANTS HULL OF A LIFT

GUS POYET will try to lift his players for the game against Villa after a disappointing home defeat to Hull on Boxing Day.

It was the derby hero's second goal in consecutive games. But goals from Gaston Ramirez and James Chester gave Steve Bruce a victory over his former side which was sealed with a goal from substitute Nikica Jelavic in the 96th minute.

Poyet was disappointed with his side's below-par play, but he was more incensed with the refereeing of Andre Marriner, whose decision not to award a penalty for two clear handballs he insists unnerved his players.

Sunderland will be boosted by the return of striker Connor Wickham, who has completed a one-match suspension for picking up five yellow cards.

Poyet is grateful his players would have the chance to put the Hull result, and Marriner's refereeing, behind them.

He said: "Normally I wouldn't agree with games coming so quickly, but in this case it could be a help to us if we get the Hull game out of our system."

Villa will have to make do without Gabby Agbonlahor.

The striker was cleared to play at Swansea on Boxing Day after being sent off against Man United.

But, having had the first red card of his career rescinded, the striker then picked up a fifth booking of the season in Villa's 1-0 defeat at the Liberty Stadium.

CHEERS: Boss Van Gaal has praised Rooney for organising United's festive party outings

SKIPPER'S SPIRIT HAS ROBIN ROCKIN'

Tottenham v Manchester United

Sunday, 12pm – Live on BT Sport 1

LOUIS VAN GAAL has praised his captain marvel Wayne Rooney for turning Man United into a social club!

The in-form Reds visit Spurs this lunchtime after a run of seven wins and a draw in their last eight outings.

The spirit in the camp is obviously a far cry from the miserable campaign under David Moyes, when there were rumblings of dressing room unrest.

The relationship between Rooney and Robin van Persie also looked strained last season.

But after Rooney scored two and set up a third for RVP in the 3-1 romp over Newcastle on Boxing Day, the pair symbolise the new optimism at Old Trafford – especially with Rooney being praised for organising the club's Christmas party.

Van Gaal said: "They've trained together already for six months, so it is normal they'll improve.

"When we're half a year further, it will improve even more. I think there is happiness in the club because we are together, working for one goal.

"We have a very good communication between all the employees at Man United and that is very important.

"The team spirit is getting stronger. When you win six times in a row, and you draw, and you win again, then the spirit of course is fantastic

"And we can celebrate Christmas parties, and that is also important.

Headache

"We can work but we can also celebrate, and that is very good."

Manager Van Gaal faced a headache over who to name as skipper when he arrived at Old Trafford this summer, eventually opting for Rooney ahead of Van Persie.

But the former Dutch World Cup boss insists he had no worries over the pair being prima donnas. He said: "They are very social players.

"The attitude of my players is a social standard and that is very important also because a team sport is between co-operating human beings."

Van Gaal is waiting for reports on a pelvic injury suffered by Angel di Maria on Christmas Eve before deciding whether to name him in his squad for White Hart Lane.

Harry Kane admits Spurs could not hack it against the big boys last season – but they can now!

Tottenham failed to beat any of last season's top four, but they are ready to change their poor record against United.

In-form Kane – who has bashed 15 goals this term – said: "We need to go into these games believing we can win. We haven't done it in the past few years.

"We're confident at the moment. We're winning games so why not?"

DON'T GET SAID-TRACKED!

Stoke v West Brom

Sunday, Kick-off 3pm

SAIDO BERAHINO has been warned that he must ignore speculation over his future and focus on rediscovering his golden touch.

Tottenham and Liverpool are both trailing the West Brom striker (left) ahead of possible January moves.

The Baggies have stated the 21-year-old will NOT be sold next month – but their leading scorer is now NINE matches without a goal. Boss Alan Irvine said: "I guess it might affect him, but at the moment it is pure speculation. We have had no offers as far as I am aware.

"He's our player and he just has to get on with it. It's one of these situations where he's got to play well and, if he does that, things happen. We'll all be delighted if he plays well and that's all he has got to focus on.

"If that means clubs come in and make offers for him, that's to be dealt with at that time.

"If he gets distracted he won't play well and if he doesn't play well, no-one will come in."

Stoke forward Jon Walters says his knackered team-mates must shake off their knocks to produce the goods.

A number of the Potters are nursing bumps and bruises following a physical encounter with Everton on Boxing Day.

But Walters says they can't use that as an excuse against the Baggies.

"It will be difficult having to go into the game just two days after Everton – it doesn't allow much recovery time," he said.

"Your legs are normally stiff a couple of days after a game, so this will prove a real test for us as a group, but it's one we must come through."

QPR v C Palace

Sunday, Kick-off 3pm

CARETAKER: Keith Millen

Deja-vu for Keith as he tries to get Eagles flyin'

KEITH MILLEN will be on familiar ground when he takes charge of Crystal Palace today.

Millen took over as caretaker boss when Ian Holloway was sacked last season – and once again when Tony Pulis walked out on the club before the start of the current campaign.

Now the former Bristol City boss will charged with securing Palace's second away league win of the season at QPR.

Victory would allow Palace to leap-frog Harry Redknapp's side.

And Eagles goalkeeper Julian Speroni said: "Sometimes teams go through a drop in performances and we are going through a tough time.

"We went through a tough time at the beginning of last season, but it's about how we come back from this.

"It's about how we turn things around and that is the important thing."

Things will get worse for the Eagles in the new year when skipper Mile Jedinak joins Australia and the Asia Cup and Yannick Bolasie teams up with DR Congo at the African Cup of Nations.

Crazy

Speroni said: "We are going to miss them, but it is about the squad.

"It is about the players who are going to come in and they are going to have to perform for us.

"That is why it is very important to have a strong squad."

Bobby Zamora says it would be "crazy" for other teams not to take a look at Charlie Austin.

But the QPR striker is praying his in-form team-mate signs a new deal and stays put to boost the survival fight at Loftus Road.

Top-scorer Austin has been carrying the burden after netting 12 goals for struggling Rangers.

And Zamora said: "We need to tie him down with a new deal. I'm pleased for him – he's doing well and he works hard.

"Without a shadow of a doubt other clubs will be looking at him. If they're not then they're crazy because he can get you that goal."

Sherwood tops Palace wishlist

By IAN WINROW

TIM SHERWOOD will be handed the task of steering Crystal Palace to safety after Neil Warnock was sacked yesterday.

The former Tottenham boss has emerged as the clear favourite to take the reins as Warnock became the first Premier League managerial casualty of the season.

Co-chairman Steve Parish brought an end to Warnock's second spell in charge at Selhurst Park just four months after his shock return in August.

Parish insisted Warnock was a "lovely bloke", but insisted he had no option after the Boxing Day home defeat to Southampton that left Palace rooted in the bottom three. He said: "It's an unfortunate decision. I thought about it a lot overnight and decided we needed a change.

"Neil is a lovely bloke and he did everything he could. It just didn't gel – it didn't work.

"Hopefully we'll now get a reaction from everybody."

Keith Millen will take temporary charge for the third time in 13 months for Sunday's relegation six-pointer at QPR.

Sherwood now heads the list of potential candidates, with Dougie Freedman and Chris Hughton also in the running.

But boss Manuel Pellegrini says he couldn't care less!

City equalled a long-standing club best as they chalked up a ninth successive victory in all competitions by beating West Brom 3-1 on Boxing Day.

Their feat matches the one first recorded by the club in 1910 and repeated during their hot streak of 2011, which included their famous 6-1 thrashing of Man United. They now have the chance to go one better as they host relegation battlers Burnley today.

But Pellegrini insists the statistics don't interest him.

The Chilean said: "I'm not aware of the records. We just want to continue adding points because it will be a very close fight for the title this year and we want to keep our title."
